WELCOME TO GRANGER, “WHERE DINOSAURS ROAM”

Building dinosaurs in Granger began in 1994. Various dinosaurs can be seen as you travel down Highway 223 near Granger, Washington. The dinosaurs are made of steel frames, and covered with wire mesh. Concrete is then placed over the frame construction. A pterosaur can be found in the middle of Granger’s manmade pond. The dinosaurs are now a tourist attraction for many children and families from all over the Yakima Valley. As a historical note, tusks and teeth of a prehistoric mastodon dinosaur were once found in a clay pit in Granger.

Granger Menudo Cook-Off is the Sunday before Labor Day.
Cherry Festival is the last weekend in April.

Granger Chamber of Commerce promotes economic growth and quality of life in Granger and its surrounding community.
